

STUDENT ASSISTANT - COMMUNICATIONS

The Family Larsson-Rosenquist Foundation is an independent philanthropic organization revitalizing the breastfeeding journey from science to impact. We take a unique approach: our priority is to increase breastfeeding rates worldwide, so our focus is on helping build innovative, efficient pathways to get there. Our team supports and collaborates with researchers, policymakers, practitioners, government leaders and partner organizations working to ensure every child has an optimum start in life through the benefits of breastmilk.

To complement our small, collaborative team in Frauenfeld TG, we are looking for a proactive and flexible personality to support our communication team on a 20% basis. (One full day on site.)

Are you interested?

You will be responsible for a range of activities, including the following tasks:

- Assist in preparing and implementing the Foundation's communication activities, for example using content management systems and social media platforms,
- Proofread Foundation publications in English and preferably also in German
- Compile and maintain overviews of relevant publications, websites, online sources, and magazines on breastfeeding-related topics,
- Maintain and organize the Foundation's photo and image library (pixx.io),
- Perform other tasks and activities as requested by the team.

Your profile

- You are currently studying communications, media, public relations, journalism, marketing, or a related field.
- You have a strong interest in public health, breastfeeding, and maternal and child nutrition.
- You are motivated to translate scientific and research-based content into clear, engaging communication materials.
- You have strong writing and editing skills and are confident in creating content for digital and print media.
- You are proficient in MS Office (especially Word and PowerPoint); experience with content management systems, social media tools, or basic graphic design software like Canva is an asset.
- You are fluent in English, German is of advantage
- You are well organized, detail-oriented, and able to work both independently and collaboratively in a small team environment.

Our offer

We invite you to join us for a challenging role with a global perspective in an unusual subject area. We are a team of motivated, committed people with a vision to contribute to something bigger than ourselves.
